

FAMILY FARMING KNOWLEDGE PLATFORM

DGroup

What is the FFKP DGroup?

The Family Farming discussion group (DGroup) is an open e-mail group with moderated inscription through which people committed to work on Family Farming related issues can interact by sharing information, knowledge and advice.

Members can discuss and share experiences and reflect on how to deal with specific challenges.

It brings together people from the public sector (national and local governments, international organizations, etc.), private sector, academia, research centers, NGOs, civil society and farmers 'organizations with the common goal of identifying opportunities and gaps to promote a shift towards more equal and balanced development.

This community exchanges on the implementation and adaptation of sustainable Family Farming projects, lessons learned, initiatives, programmes, public policies, etc. in support of family farming.

The FFKP DGroup community aims to:

- Foster knowledge and information dissemination for concrete actions and policy making in support of family farming;
- Share and collaborate among practitioners;
- Inform on events related to the United Nations Decade of Family Farming;
- Provide support to deal with shared challenges in family farming related issues;
- Support collective efforts to influence relevant policy areas;
- Increase the visibility of family farming.

Please keep in mind:

- Answers should be short and to the point. When possible, links and specific resources should be used. Relevant material can be shared with other participants using the FFKP DGroup platform library here: <https://dgroups.org/fao/familyfarming/library>;
- When sending out an answer, you are invited to state your name, contact details, role/profession, organization, and country;
- When drawing from past or ongoing experience, please give some basic background information related to your example, for instance specifying country/area, which programme/organization etc. This will allow us to inventory the full range of FF experiences on the discussion theme shared in the e-forum.
